

Ashley Chandler is a freelance musician and choreographer from Indianapolis, IN. She graduated summa cum laude from Marian University in 2007 with both a BA in Instrumental Performance (Winds with a focus on Clarinet) and a BS in Marketing. She studied under Jim Lerner, Philip Kern, Steve Whipkey, and Jeff McLaughlin while she was there. Ashley is the artistic director/owner of the Encore Performing Arts Academy and currently teaches piano, clarinet, flute, and saxophone lessons. She is currently teaching at Lawrence North High School as well as throughout the east and northeast sides of Indianapolis. Ashley also plays locally for pit orchestras and weddings, as well as weekly on the worship team at Life Church in Fishers. Outside of her instrumental work, Ashley does choreography for several show choirs including State-qualifying show choirs at both Warren Central High School in Indianapolis and Twin Lakes High School in Monticello, IN. If you are interested in lessons, please feel free to contact Ashley. Thanks! ☺
